LEARNING IS POWER — AND PACCAZ IS HERE TO MAKE SURE OUR COMMUNITY NEVER STOPS GROWING.

OUR COMMUNITY IS RISING — TOGETHER!

Our Community Rising: Training, Resources & Opportunity for All

On September 20, 2025, the community came together in Mesa for Our Community Rising, a one-day event dedicated to empowerment, learning, and connection. Hosted and held in collaboration with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the program was organized by Our Community Foundation with the support of local leaders and volunteers. It offered free classes in sports, arts, martial arts, vocational skills, and financial literacy for children, youth, and families.

The day kicked off with energy and excitement as participants explored new skills, joined hands-on sessions, and connected with mentors. From volleyball and pickleball lessons to workshops in creative arts, self-defense, and financial education, the event reflected the true spirit of bayanihan—neighbors lifting each other up. Vendors, resource tables, and partner organizations also added to the atmosphere, providing valuable information and opportunities for networking. More than just a series of classes, Our Community Rising embodied PACCA's mission to support growth, collaboration, and innovation in the Filipino-American and broader Arizona community.

By investing in training and wellness, this initiative highlights how shared knowledge and collective action can create stronger families, thriving businesses, and a brighter future for all.

What an incredible day of unity, learning, and empowerment at the Our Community Rising event!

Hosted in partnership with Our Community Foundation, this gathering brought families, youth, and leaders together for a celebration of skill-building and connection. From vocational workshops and art sessions to martial arts demos, sports clinics, and even financial literacy classes, the event offered something meaningful for every age and background.

But more than the activities, it was the spirit of the day that stood out: smiles shared, hands extended, and hearts aligned in purpose.

A Heartfelt Thank You
To everyone who showed up — whether you taught a class, volunteered your time, or simply brought your family to participate — thank you. Your presence made this event more than a program... it made it a movement.

When people come together to serve, learn, and uplift one another that's when real change begins.

Whether you want to volunteer, donate, or learn something new, there's a place for you.

Because When the Community Rises — We All Rise

PACCA proudly supports initiatives that strengthen families, elevate skills, and build bridges of opportunity.

Let's continue standing side by side, serving side by side, and growing side by side.

TEAM PACCA GIVES BACK – ONE MEAL AT A TIME

WHY WE SERVE

Community service is deeply rooted in our culture. As Filipino Americans, we were raised on values of bayanihan – the spirit of helping one another. Lending a hand, sharing what we have, and lifting others up is part of who we are.

Volunteering with FMSC allowed us to carry those values forward – not just as individuals, but as one united chamber.

And yes, we worked hard... but we also had fun! From laughs over assembly lines to spontaneous dance moves in the packing room, it was proof that when PACCA shows up, we show up with heart and energy.

BE PART OF THE NEXT ONE

This is only the beginning.

PACCA will continue hosting and participating in volunteer initiatives throughout the year – from outreach projects to local charity events and donation drives. Whether you're a long-time member or just getting to know us, there's a place for you in this movement of service.

A FINAL WORD

Our time with Feed My Starving Children wasn't just about packing meals – it was about packing hope. It was a celebration of generosity, unity, and the impact we can make when we stand side by side.

To everyone who joined us – maraming salamat. And to those considering joining next time – we'll save you a spot (and yes, a hairnet too!). Mabuhay, Team PACCA – let's keep making a difference, one act of service at a time.

At the Philippine American Chamber of Commerce of Arizona (PACCA), success isn't just measured in business growth – it's measured in how we show up for our community. And on August 12, 2025, our members did just that.

In partnership with Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) in Tempe, PACCA volunteers joined forces for an afternoon of service – hairnets on, gloves ready, and hearts full. Together, we packed hundreds of nutritious meals that will be delivered to children facing hunger across the globe. But this wasn't just a packing event – it was a powerful reminder of what happens when community comes together.

"It's amazing how just a couple of hours of our time can impact someone's life in another part of the world," said one volunteer.

"Giving back doesn't have to be complicated – it just has to be genuine."

FROM LUMPIA TO LATTES: WINNING WITH FILIPINO AND AMERICAN AUDIENCES IN ARIZONA

Arizona isn't just desert sunsets and spring training baseball — it's also home to one of the fastest-growing Filipino-American communities in the Southwest. With Phoenix, Mesa, and Chandler buzzing with entrepreneurs, educators, and foodies, there's huge potential for businesses that know how to bridge Filipino warmth with American hustle.

So... how do you win hearts (and wallets) on both sides? Grab a seat (and maybe a halo-halo or iced coffee @ Meemay's), because here's your crash course.

Business Etiquette: Know the Dance

Filipino Flow: Relationships > transactions. Deals might take a few chats, maybe a merienda (snack), before the papers get signed. Politeness and patience = respect.

American Flow: Speed counts. "What's the ROI?" "When can you deliver?" They expect straightforward timelines, competitive pricing, and no surprises.

Pro Tip: With Filipinos, invest time to build trust. With Americans, save time to build credibility

First Impressions: The Hello Matters

Filipino Style: Start with a smile and a "kumusta?" (hello). Don't be surprised if the convo drifts into family life before business — aunties, uncles, cousins three times removed... it's all fair game. Bonus points if you ask about food!

American Style: Get to the point, but keep it friendly. A firm handshake (or these days, a confident fist bump) and a clear agenda go a long way.

Pro Tip: Lead with warmth, land with clarity. Start relational, finish with action.

Marketing Magic: From Fiestas to Facebook Ads

Filipino Audiences: Want attention? Show up where the action is — Independence Day festivals, Simbang Gabi at church, or a karaoke night fundraiser. Community sponsorships = instant trust.

American Audiences: Think Yelp reviews, Google Maps visibility, and clean Insta feeds. Efficiency, convenience, and quick info are everything.

Pro Tip: For Filipino customers, bring pansi to the party. For American customers, bring bullet points to the pitch deck.

Where the Opportunities Shine

Education & Childcare: Filipino families prize schooling, while American parents look for safe, reliable programs. Big overlap here.

Food & Hospitality: Filipino food is having its moment (hello, ube everything). Fusion menus win everyone.

Health & Wellness: Both groups are wellness-conscious — bonus if you offer culturally attuned services.

Pro Tip: Arizona loves a mash-up. Don't be afraid to serve lumpia at a Super Bowl watch party.

Closing Thoughts: Be the Bridge

Doing business in Arizona means embracing its mix — of cultures, of flavors, of styles. When you learn to blend Filipino hospitality with American directness, you don't just close deals... you build communities.

So the next time you're pitching, networking, or setting up shop in Phoenix, Chandler, or Mesa, remember:

Bring the heart of Manila, the efficiency of Silicon Valley, and just a touch of Sonoran spice.
And don't forget dessert — everyone says yes to halo-halo. And for that go to Meemay's

A NEW ERA FOR FILIPINO AMERICAN BUSINESS IN ARIZONA

Philippines Consulate Office @ 1840 W. Chandler Blvd, Chandler, Arizona

The Consulate, led by Honorary Consul Jenny Ho-Vijungco, is more than just a service hub for passports and visas. It is a gateway to stronger partnerships between Arizona and the Philippines. This Consulate is here not only to serve our community but also to strengthen business and cultural ties that will benefit both Arizona and the Philippines.

The Philippine American Chamber of Commerce of Arizona (PACCA) sees this as a game-changer—opening doors for trade missions, networking, and investment opportunities that will benefit both communities. “Together with Honorary Consul Jenny Ho, we look forward to building bridges that empower Filipino-American entrepreneurs, expand investment opportunities, and showcase Arizona as a partner in global growth.”

Chandler, AZ – The Philippine-American Chamber of Commerce of Arizona (PACCA) proudly celebrates the historic opening of the Philippine Consulate in Chandler—a milestone that brings government services closer to more than 90,000 Filipino-Americans in the state and unlocks exciting opportunities for business growth and collaboration.

The Philippine Consulate in Chandler is not just a symbol of progress—it is a catalyst for stronger economic, cultural, and community ties. For Filipino-Americans in Arizona, the future has never looked brighter!
